The old saying goes, "ART FOR ART'S SAKE!" But when you find Sylvester P. Smythe painting, you know it has to be "ART FOR LAUGH'S SAKE!" . . . We asked him about his masterpiece and he told us it wasn't finished yet—it was just a thumb-nail sketch. Keep painting, OLD BUDDY, BUDDY!!

LETTERS

Cracked wants to thank the following motion picture companies for the use of their still pictures, UNITED ARTISTS, PARAMOUNT, WARNER BROS., UNIVERSAL-INTERNATIONAL.

Dear Sirs:

We of the Cassius Clay fan club regret to inform you that we could only read half your article about the Liston-Clay fight. (April issue) The part about Clay, that other guy's face was too horrifying.

The Cassius Clay Fan Club,
Mike Marley, President
Boston, Mass.

Funny, but we received the same letter from the Sonny Liston fan club.

Dear Cracked:

Read your article, "THEIR DREAMS ALMOST CAME TRUE" (April) and what I would like to know is Stella Stenson (the waitress) still working in a restaurant?

Vickie Bakwin
Nashville, Tenn.

No, she was re-discovered by Hollywood and is now doing those, "PLEASE MOTHER, I WOULD RATHER DO IT MYSELF!" tv commercials.

Dear Clods:

For the last three years I have been an umpire for a semi-pro softball league so I had a fine time reading, "HOW TO UNDERSTAND SPORTS OFFICIALS' SIGNALS" in the June Cracked. In the article you have an umpire tripping over second base. You claim this proves what fans have known for years, umps need glasses or a seeing-eye dog. Not true at all. Us umpires have great eye sight. I'll match my eye sight with you or anybody else in your office.

Fred Carley
Chicago, Ill.

We believe you Fred, but how come you put a Christmas seal on the envelope instead of a stamp?

Dear Fatheads:

I like your magazine very much. Why don't you have more "HURRY-UPS?" I enjoy them. Put in at least ten of them every issue.

Paul Stowers
Perryburgh, Ohio

We would like too, but our "HURRY-UP" artist is very slow drawing them.

Dear Editor:

Did your artist John Severin ever live in Pueblo, Colo.? When I was a kid, I knew a "John Severin." He was always drawing funny pictures in school. Could you let me know if it's the same "John Severin?"

Will Moore
Pueblo, Colo.

John came into the office recently and I showed your letter to him—he said he never lived in Pueblo. John claimed the farthest west he has ever been is Paterson, N.J.

Dear Editors:

Thanks for putting out a very funny issue (the June one). The best thing was "THAT WONDERFUL YEAR OF 1032 B.C." Great!

Rick Vasserson
Cleveland, Ohio

Best year so far.

Dear Sirs:

We were very disappointed and upset by your article on the COSA NOSTRA (April issue). That company that exterminates rats and rat finks should be deported. We are not as bad as everybody tries to make out. There are eight members in our club and they are all very loyal.

M.B., D.B., M.D., J.H., R.K.,
R.K., R.L., S.W.
West Fargo, N.D.

Can I join your club?—have black hand and will travel.

ARE YOU THE OVERLY-VIGOROUS TYPE OF TOOTHBRUSHER?

Do you brush your teeth as vigorous-as if you were scrubbing the wheels on your hearse? Do you brush up, down? Sideways or from the inside out? No matter what type of tooth-brusher you are, you'll brush your fangs better with BREAKODENT, the electric-action brush for teeth, gums and great for touching up your long, sharp fingernails. BREAKODENT is made by SCREAM, leader in dental research and in oil well digging. BREAKODENT brushes gently—up-and-down—162 times a second.

WHATEVER YOUR TYPE, YOU'LL BRUSH YOUR TEETH BETTER WITH BREAKODENT, THE ELECTRIC TOOTHBRUSH WITH THE BUILT-IN PLASMA SUPPLY.

(If you have A.C. teeth, 146 times a second) BREAKODENT was tested five years in dental clinics, dungeons and torture chambers. Supplied with four different color snap-on brushes, 'prison-pink,' 'graveyard gray,' 'bat-wings blue' and 'monster mauve.' A thoughtful and welcome gift. . . . for Mother's Day, Father's Day, weddings and successful grave robberings.

THROUGHOUT HISTORY WITH HOME MOVIES

I just remembered
I forgot to load
this darn thing!

Lucky guy! You've been chosen to record the Pharaoh's voyage to the next world on home movies!

— NED KELLY —

That's me raising money for my trip at Queen Isabella's court. Those Spanish nobles are sure loaded . . . and so were my dice.

The seventh day out and I'm still having a difficult time convincing that nutty crew of mine that the world is round.

We finally made it to land. It took me more than an hour to properly pose the crew for this dramatic landing shot.

I think I'll tell my European publisher to make it the official cover picture for all our souvenir albums.

The natives must have had us tabbed as a bunch of sucker tourists. Here they are trying to con us into buying something called tobacco. Incredible as it may seem you're supposed to put the stuff in your mouth and burn it.

Time really flew by. I finally decided to leave for home . . . even though there were several interesting projects I still hadn't researched.

And as the sun slowly sets in the horizon we bid fond adieu to America. It was a nice place to visit but I wouldn't want to live there.

THE NAKED TRUTH
STARRING
A BARESKINEMA PRODUCTION

Here's that stupid husband of mine who couldn't figure out his taxes. . . . As a penalty I have to ride around town naked Here's a shot of the horse I'm going to ride. That stupid husband of mine had to pick a white one to attract even more attention.

Here's a shot of me on the horse. . . . That stupid husband of mine can't even operate a simple camera.

Here are some shameless cads ogling me as I ride through town.

That's my husband over there fetching the police to chase away the peeping Toms.

These are the policemen that stupid husband of mine got to put an end to the ogling.

COUNT DRACULA IN FANGS FOR THE MEMORY

BELFRY PICTURE

For this movie I had to use a dark meter instead of a light meter. I also had to use special transylvanochrome film to record vampiric images.

Here's my wife and I setting off on a little vacation trip to celebrate our 300th anniversary. . . . Some of the townspeople are bidding us bon voyage.

On our travels we ran into a very fun couple . . . I forgot whether he said he was in the used car or used body business.

In Wyoming I met this pretty redskin, the most delicious-mortal morsel I've ever laid fangs on.

On more than one occasion we narrowly avoided disaster. The confusing time zone changes and daylight saving time had us barely hitting the sack on time.

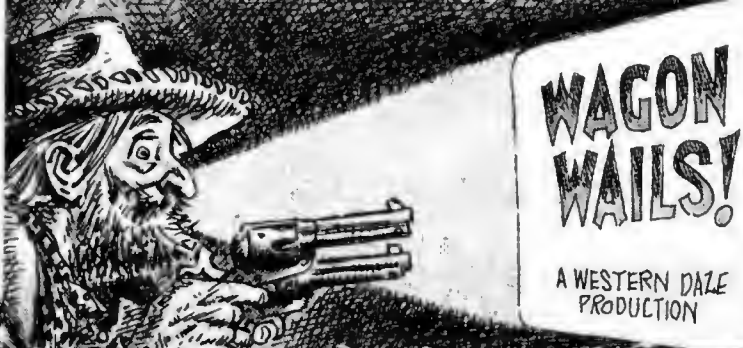

Here's the Red Square in Moscow. It was just a little bit redder after we left.

In Russia I encountered many fanatical communists, but I must admit I enjoyed chewing the fat with these Reds.

Here we were back home once more. The wife couldn't wait to "slip" into something more comfortable.

Here's a shot of me and Ello May pulling up stakes. Just look at her overcrowding our covered wagon . . . you'd think we were gonna be travelling for 6 years instead of just 6 months.

One week later the first wagon quit the train. The driver said he was staying put to sell victuals to other oncoming wagons. He was a nice guy and we all felt sorry to see Howard Johnson leave.

As if we didn't have enough junk aboard the wagon. Ello May kept spotting more and more bargains we couldn't resist.

Here's an action shot of some Indian trouble-makers we met enroute. They have some cockeyed notion they own this country just because it's been handed down to them by their forefathers.

Every wagon train has a comedian. Ours was Rufus Goofus. He had everybody in stitches about how he was gonna make a fortune in California planting some whacky orange-colored fruit.

Finally we made it to L.A. It's a right purty place, but they're sure gonna have to do something about the traffic.

KING SAUD IN HAREM HIJINXS

ALL 500 KIDS IN THIS MOVIE WERE DIRECTED AND PRODUCED BY ME

Allah be praised for wide-screen film! Now
I can finally squeeze
the ENTIRE FAMILY
into a single frame!

Here I am leaving for my vacation trip to New York. Since this is going to be a short voyage I am taking along 25 wives.

The first morning out at sea. On second thought maybe I should have left the 25 wives at home.

Although I was fully prepared to encounter unveiled women and monogamy in America.
I had no idea these disgusting institutions were carried out so shamelessly in the open.

On the positive side Americans have a great many wonderful gadgets. Here are some vending machines I brought back that I had converted for domestic use.

Dear Mrs. Custer,

We are forwarding to you all personal effects found on the body of your late husband, Col. Georges A. Custer. . .

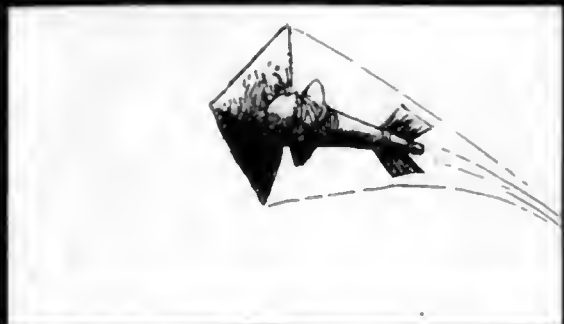

Here I am starting out on another one of these tedious cavalry marches.

To relieve the boredom I decided to take some pictures of the cute Indians along the way.

Just as I spotted a huge group of Indians in my viewer, a very unusual thing happ . . .

Of course, the water conservationists haven't been taking this shortage lightly . . . several attempts have been made to increase our aquatic supply . . . but they have met with disastrous results

1st Attempt

Dry ice in a cloud to produce rain.

RESULT: a 13-inch dry ice storm blankets the city.

2nd Attempt

To float and melt huge icebergs in our reservoirs.

RESULT: a preserved, thawed out REX RAVISHES CITY.

3rd Attempt

HURRY UPS

LAUGH IT UP! IT'S HURRY-UP TIME AGAIN! QUICK SMILES ON THE HALF-SHELL IS THE SPECIAL FOR TODAY!

Millions of Americans are members of the BOOK-OF-THE-MONTH CLUB, THE RECORD-OF-THE-MONTH CLUB and millions more belong to similar type organizations. CRACKED predicts we will soon have . . .

EVERYTHING OF THE MONTH CLUBS

FOR SULTANS

Every month this club will send you a new bride. . . . Please check on coupon if you want a redhead, blonde, or brunet. This offer only good in the Near and Far East and in Hollywood, California.

FOR GOURMETS

They send you once a month an exotic, rare food. . . . This month's special is Pickled, Chocolate dipped Sapsucker ears. Join today and receive free, a one-year's supply of after-dinner mints and a large bottle of Alka-Seltzer.

FOR PLUMBERS

When you become a member of this club, they send you a "Stopped-Up" kitchen sink. Bonus for joining; A mink-lined 'Plumber's Helper.'

FOR BANK ROBBERS

This club is really going great guns with the underworld. For a large fee, they mail (in a plain envelope) the floor plans of a bank, once a month. . . . For becoming a member you get free; four sheets of sandpaper, for sandpapering your fingers and an autographed picture of Willie Sutton. Offer only good for crooks living West of Sing Sing Prison.

FOR MONSTERS

The members of this club are sent new parts for their heads, maps of charming graveyards and technical books like "HOW I BUILT MY FIRST BLOOD BANK." And "WHAT TO DO UNTIL THE CRAZY DOCTOR COMES—SET FIRE TO THE PLACE."

FOR DOCTORS

Every month he receives a copy of a very old magazine . . . such magazines as 'Judge,' 'The Literary Digest,' and issues of 'Life' for the year 1951. . . . When a doctor joins this club, he gets a special bonus offer of ten copies of the Old New York Mirror newspaper for his office waiting room.

FOR PRIZE FIGHTERS

Prize fighters are joining this one in great numbers. . . . Once a month they are sent a 70-year-old man they can beat up with one hand tied behind their backs. If the boxer is "Chicken," the club will send him a little old lady he can go five quick rounds with . . . or if he's "real chicken," a midget.

FOR TEENAGERS

Once a month, a teenager is sent a different style of telephone and six pages of brand new telephone numbers . . . a special bonus for joining, he or she receives a pair of ear-plugs they may give to their parents to stick in their ears when they are talking on the phone.

FOR CAR FANS

This club is catching on with auto nuts. . . . When you sign-up they send you every month a new foreign car. . . . This month's selection is the 'English-Spit-flame'. Gets 40 miles to a gallon of tea. The tires are made out of English Muffins and the car has four shifts; first, second, third and "Sorry Old Bean, I did not know your vehicle was parked there!"

Today if you want to get invited to parties you gotta be interesting and have something different to offer. For those of you who are dull clods you can always learn how to play "Blue Moon" on the piano and get by. For those of you who are more imaginative and intelligent type clods you can easily become the life of the party if you master the art of.....

HYPNOTISM

SELECTION OF THE SUBJECT IS IMPORTANT

A good subject should be ready and willing to be hypnotized and be completely relaxed, like the man above

A good subject should be intelligent, cooperative, responsive, and be able to concentrate, like the man above

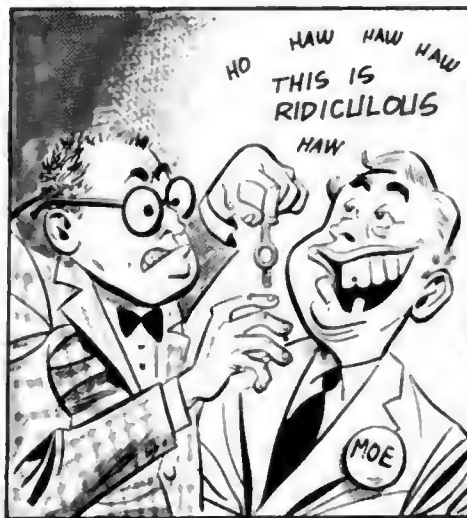

Reason man above is such a good subject is mainly because hypnosis hasn't even begun yet and he's half asleep already

SELECTION OF DANGLING OBJECT IS VERY IMPORTANT

A button makes a good object because it is small and forces the subject's attention to a concentrated area

A gold watch makes a better object because it glitters and is therefore more noticeable and eye arresting

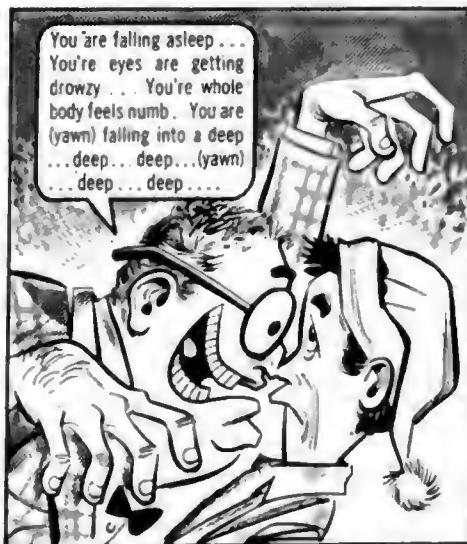

A baseball bat makes the best object because you can always bang the subject over the head with it if he resists you

PROPER HANDLING OF SUBJECT IS MOST IMPORTANT

First make sure subject is fully relaxed by cleverly suggesting sleep

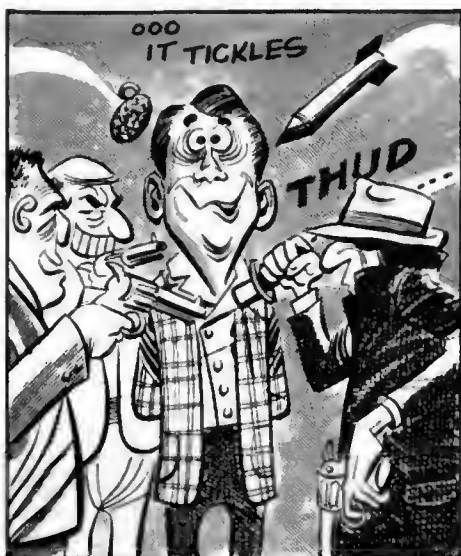

Then look subject straight in the eye and say the secret words over and over

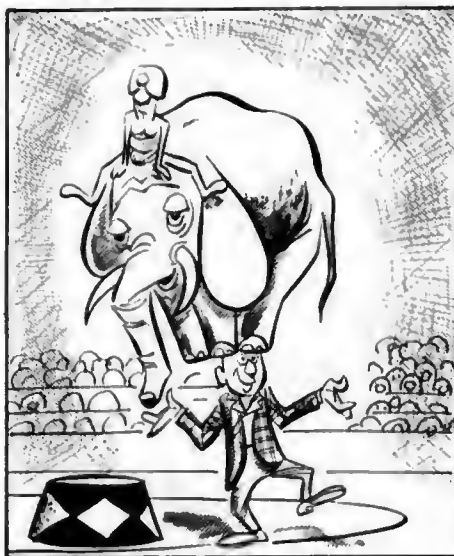

The trick however is to make sure you are not the one who falls asleep

MANY THINGS CAN BE DONE TO HYPNOTIZED SUBJECT

Subject can be made not to feel any pain no matter what is being done to him

Subject can be made to perform great feats of strength far beyond his normal capacity

Subject can be made to believe almost anything. For example, man above actually thinks he's a dog

HOWEVER, SUBJECT CANNOT BE MADE TO DO ANYTHING AGAINST HIS WILL

If subject is a teetotaler he cannot be made to drink alcohol no matter what happens

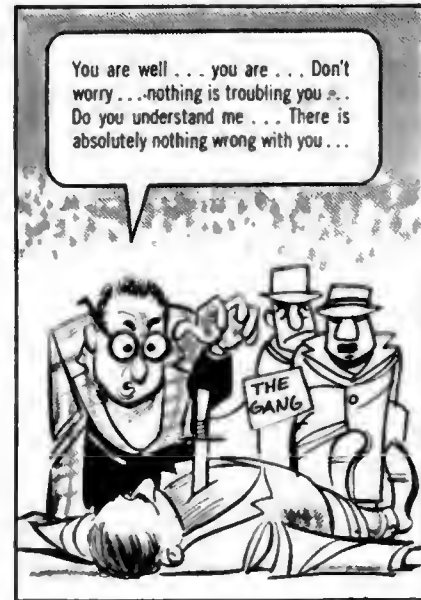

If subject is a non-smoker he cannot be forced to smoke a cigarette under any circumstances

By the same token if subject is vicious by nature he cannot be expected to be peaceful and friendly

HYPNOTISM IS WIDELY USED TODAY BY LEADING PSYCHOLOGISTS IN HELPING THEIR PATIENTS OVERCOME INFERIORITY COMPLEXES AND IN CURING THEM OF THEIR FEARS AND ANXIETIES

I've heard of unscheduled flights, but this is RIDICULOUS!

You won't believe it, but on TV I'm sponsored by an automobile manufacturer!

Looks like you're SECOND in command and I'm THIRD in command.

Yeah, a fist. I didn't know that blonde waitress was married!

A VISIT TO THE # BEACH

PRACTICALLY EVERYONE KNOWS ABOUT THE FAMOUS TOURIST LANDMARKS OF OUR COUNTRY. BUT THE MOST INTERESTING SPOTS ARE THOSE LITTLE KNOWN WONDERS OF NATURE—OFF THE BEATEN TRACK—THAT MOST SIGHTSEERS KNOW NOTHING ABOUT! SO IN KEEPING WITH OUR POLICY OF MAKING CRACKED READERS THE "INFORMED OF THE EARTH," WE PRESENT THESE OUT-OF-THE-WAY-WONDERS, CLEVERLY ARRANGED SO YOU CAN CLIP THEM OUT AND SAVE THEM AS A SET. IMPRESS YOUR FRIENDS; SHOW THEM HOW WELL YOU KNOW YOUR COUNTRY . . .

LAND

UNNATURAL BRIDGE

Junction Creek, Wyoming

This unusual and wondrous spectacle of nature was worn out of solid sandstone by wind and rain. Most geologists say that it was completed before the last ice age, over a million years ago, and that the Exact-Change line was later added by the Aztec Indians. Others claim it was put up by a platoon of combat infantry engineers maneuvering in the area last spring. Located just 29 miles south of Gopher Gulch, Wyoming on Route 4. Don't miss it!

HARWELL SMEG MUSEUM

Smeg Corners, Kansas

When old Harwell Smeg, founder of Smeg Enterprises, died in 1858, he left all of his money for the establishment of a Smeg Museum. This was to house all the useless junk he had collected over the course of his useless life. You'll be fascinated by this gigantic mess, just 155 miles southwest of the nearest town, Grapple Corners. . . The famous room on the third floor, containing antique hockey pucks, is a must for the curiosity seeker.

CROWDED ROADS

Sturdbridge, Kentucky

Each year from early July thru Labor Day, this famous crossroads is completely jammed with 17 million cars filled with vacationing tourists, who sit at a dead standstill for the entire period. Whole communities of summer motorists grow up, live, and die here. It is rumored that George Washington visited Crowded Roads on July 4th, 1776, and had to sweat out the entire revolution from this spot. If you plan to visit Crowded Roads this summer, plan to stay a while. . .

OF THE FREE

UPSIDE DOWN VIEW

Oshkosh, Florida

Through some flaw in the gravitational theory, this charming vista has turned out completely upside down. Many tourists used to visit this spot in the past but after awhile, it gets you sick. . . . This view can be seen by driving 5 miles due south from the Gismo Hotel in Miami, following the signs to Lake Stover and upon arrival there, standing carefully on your head.

4

OLD GNARLED TREE

Cold Springs, South Dakota

Early one morning in the spring of '47, Patrolman Seymour Grovis of nearby Lukewarm Springs, came upon this strange old tree which had apparently grown into a grotesque, bizarre shape. Patrolman Grovis permitted the state to turn his discovery into a National Monument. . . . The old gnarled tree is located just half-way down a hair-pin curve on Route 44.

STRANGE CRACKING WALL

Crabgrass, Colorado

Ever since this quaint limestone wall was built in the vacant lot behind Kropotkin's Butcher Shop on Main Street, mysterious cracks appeared in it daily. Some say it's due to earthquakes; others attribute it to some warning from outer space. Mr. Kropotkin says it's because Herman, the delivery boy, backs his truck into it every morning. Since the cracks come and go, plan on spending the entire day watching this wall.

6

GROVIS PARK

Los Angeles, California

For some reason, no one takes advantage of this delightful, out-of-the-way spot to picnic and enjoy the scenic view. Simply drive northeast from Beverly Hills to the luxurious estate of Edwin P. Grovis, preferably under cover of a moonless night, sneak out onto the north field and wait for daybreak. A good idea is to poison the watchdogs at least a week in advance.

Haircuts are for the birds, but I wish the birds would stop using mine for a nest!

GREAT GAPING HOLE

Smedley, New York

Some 10,000 miles wide by 13,000 miles long, this huge, gaping hole was discovered accidentally in upstate New York by Elmira Protz-Smedley, while out necking with his girl in the woods, July 4, 1937. Various explanations have been offered regarding the origin of this phenomenon. The most popular theory is that it may have been caused by pranksters setting off extra large firecrackers in Brooklyn. Drop in on this marvel of nature when your in the neighborhood.

Home of SYLVESTER P. SMYTHE

Bronx, N. Y.

This is the celebrated boyhood home of Sylvester P. Smythe, in historic old Bronx. It was here that Sylvester P. Smythe spent his early years, the period of struggle, trying to make a name for himself as an abstract janitor. It was here that Sylvester first developed and perfected his now famous plastering strokes. From there he went on to fame and fortune but never forgot his old friends and neighbors, mainly because he's still living in the place.

NEVER UNDERESTIMATE THE POWER OF A FEMALE PERFORMER DEPT.

Not since crabgrass hit the suburbs has there been anything to compare with the sneaky female invasion into television. First it was the family comedy show that showed how Ma could always make a boob out of Pa. Then Dr. Joyce Brothers put the skids to Freud. This was followed by Lassie's usurpation of Rin-tin-tin as America's No. 1 canine. And now the distaff side has scored its biggest coup to date. The last pillars of video male supremacy, the TV doctors, have been toppled over by the real power behind the hospital throne—"The Nurses." Now that there is absolutely no holding back the female...

What do you want to do tonight, Kildare?

I don't know, Ben. What do you want to do?

Let's watch The Nurses!

YOO HOO! CAR FIFTY-FOUR WHERE ARE YOU?

For tanning I use Copper-tone exclusively!

ARE YOU?
CAR 54 WHERE DIDN'T KNOW!
...AS IF WE KNOW!

THE DISTAFF DEFENDERS

I'll make my summation as brief as possible since I know you're all anxious to catch that stupendous sale at Schlossman's!

But Marshal Dilly, why must I leave town by sundown? I'm not wearing my guns!

No, but you are wearing my brand of perfume!

HI, DILLY!

HI, KIT!

How about joining us in a game of cut-throat bridge, Marshal?

Thanks, but I've got to go back to jail and check on my sidekick, Hester!

Girls, you can't string up that hoss thief without a fair trial!

She's no hoss thief, Marshal—she's a dress-design thief!

Why didn't you say so?

Hester, can't I leave you alone for 5 minutes without you making a ridiculous mess of things?

But Marshall Dilly, I've cleaned the lace curtains, polished the spittoons and manicured the prisoners! Everything's perfect!

Then what's your horse doing in my shampoo trough?

ROUTE SWEET SIXTEEN

HINKLEY-WINKLEY REPORT

SCENE—
H.Q. OF THE UNMENTIONABLES

Girls, meet your new boss,
Ella Nussy!

Hi, Kids! Washington sent me here to make some changes!

... and before I'm through I'm going to change everything—our coffee breaks,
our hairdos, our powder
rooms ...

But first of all I'm going to change these ugly phones for some colored Princess phones!

What's that?
21 Halsted Street? .
We'll be right there!

Let's go, girls! Grab your tommy guns and your pocketbooks!

Whee! How
exciting!

By the way, chiefy, what joint are we raiding today?

Who said anything about a raid?

... Gumball's Dept Store is holding a fire sale and we'll need these gats to fight our way in!

Golly! Just look at these fabulous
knitted shoulder
holsters!

From now on you stock up on Ma Fia's bootleg cosmetics ... or we'll scratch your eyes out!

Alright, Blondie!
You're coming to Headquarters with us for some questioning!

Nobody can pin anything
on me (sneer!)
... unless it's a diamond
brooch!

LATER

Oh, Nussy! This 3rd degree of yours is so beastly cruel! ... 3 whole days without my makeup kit!

It's yours if you give us the lowdown on your boss, Ma Fia!

Alright, I'll talk!
She's bzz...bzz...

Rosey! We've
finally got the
goods on Ma Fia!
Round up the girls,
we're going on a raid.

They're in the lineup room! I'll get them!

Aren't they just too
divine for words!

I like that precious dreamboat
on the right!

On the double,
girls! Nussy wants us to pick up the queenpin
of crime!

You're under arrest, Ma Fia, for falsifying your income tax return!

Don't be absurd,
Miss Nussy!

... My accountants assure me that every figure on my return is absolutely accurate!

Every figure
... except one!

... your age!

POOR GUY! He was just a college football coach!

I did try to RENT A CAR dear,
but this is all
Hertz had left!

4 FUNNY ONES

"Don't take it so hard, Sir! Maybe your son will change his mind about wanting to join the NAVY!"

"Are you SURE Lawrence Welk started this way?"

CRACKED'S CRACKS

"You should SEE the SIZE of that guy!"

"Bates, a go-getter like you DESERVES a raise!"

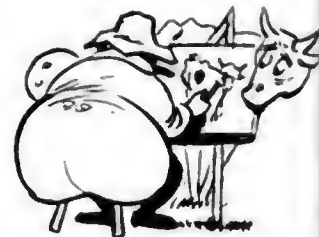

"You're new around these parts aren't ya, STRANGER?"

"It's a very practical way to do WATER COLORS!!!"

According to a recent survey, there are now over 20 million amateur artists in the United States. . . And about half of these are from the new school of "Paint-by-the-numbers." The other half are members of the "Hey, Mabel, do you think a green tree would look good against a purple sky?" school. Many of these painters are self taught. Which means they can't draw a cloud without using a ruler. We now give you the CRACKED word on . . .

AMATEUR ARTISTS

(Always on Sunday)

My mother says I need a haircut!
I don't think so—I can still see!

ART SUPPLIES

Art supply stores are making big money on this latest fad. . . Every week something new is put on the market for the Sunday painter to buy. New paints, new brushes, and books. An instruction book which is currently a best seller is titled, "HOW I MADE A MILLION DOLLARS OUT OF PAINTING—PAINTING STOLEN CARS."

A SUNDAY PAINTER ONE WEEK AFTER HE BEGAN HIS HOBBY.

SUNDAY PAINTER ONE MONTH AFTER HE BEGAN HIS HOBBY.

A typical Sunday in the life of an amateur Michelangelo. . . . Here we see him getting ready for a trip into the country side, where he will create a masterpiece. A masterpiece which he'll use to cover up a hole in the living room wall.

Finally, home returns the painter.

I was a Seattle and I didn't even know it!
